Do You Know from Experience that there is Some Satisfaction in putting on a shirt that fits to wear, an excellent place for the shirt that in it, is the rag basket. If you have not been troubled with an ill-made, ill-fitting, uncomfortable shirt, you have escaped a positive infliction; if you have been bothered by such an article you will be all the more apt to steer clear in the future. Don't get in a perfect rage every time you put a shirt on, but try OUR SENATOR, the most perfect fitting shirt made. The price does not signify the value.

Laundered $1.10, Unlaundered $1.

You have had plenty of experience with shirts, and this experience has probably taught you something. There isn't the least reason why you should be content with second rate material or make when that is neither the one or the other is at your disposal for less than the same amount of money. Our BOYANZA, made of the Langdon Cotton, reinforced front and back, perfect in fit and workmanship. Try one. Only 75c unlaundered, 85c laundered.

Our Forest City Short Bosom Shirt and Portland Pride are equal value according to price, 65c and 50c each 10c extra laundered.

The Wonder Shirt is rightly named. Price 35c, unlaundered, 10c extra for laundered.

meeting and earnestly defended Mr. Ryan, but his defence didn't go. The curtain will now rise upon what present stands as the last act of this comedy or tragedy, as you choose, the caucus in the new city hall.

The city committee had decided that Dr. A. M. Garcelon should preside over the caucus, but when Chairman French, who is not administrative by the way, called the meeting to order he neglected to call Mr. Garcelon to the chair until Mr. T. F. Callahan arose and nominated another man, Kinney by name.

Chairman French put the motion and declared Mr. Kinney elected. It was objected to but the objection didn't go. Then, men and brethren, was sighted you all should have witnessed. Such vigorous use of the English tongue, such jests, such calculations, such hustling is never the lot of every man to witness. Ex-Mayor McGillicuddy took the lead and a poll of the house was at length secured. The opposition didn't show up.

Then some resolutions were introduced like those I have described above, and they were passed, five objecting. The McGillicuddies were triumphant. FRED K. OWEN.

Second District Convention.

LEWISTON, June 2.—The Second District Democrats today nominated D. J. McGillicuddy of Lewiston for Representative to Congress, George E. Hughes of Bath and A. S. Kimball of Norway as delegates to the Chicago convention, and Ferdinand Penley of Auburn and Ernest F. Kelly of Bath alternates. They instructed the delegates to vote for Cleveland. A resolution that D. J. McGillicuddy's nomination for Congress should not prejudice his candidacy for delegate at large to Chicago, and recommending him as the choice of the Democrats of the Second District, brought out a warm debate. The last clause of the resolution was voted down.

At the High Water Mark.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 2.—Under a cloudless sky, and in the presence of thousands of spectators, the High Water Mark monument was dedicated today. The exercises at the monument began at 1 o'clock. Rev. J. Minott Savage of Boston opened with prayer, Hon. Edward McPherson extended the welcome to the battlefield, Colonel John B. Bachelder told why the tablet was called the "High Water Mark," Samuel N. Swope of Gettysburg unveiled and presented the monument to the Memorial Association, and John H. Vanderveer of Philadelphia received it. Ex-Governor James A. Beaver delivered the oration, and James J. Roche of Boston read a poem. Short addresses were also made by General Webb, General W. G. Veazey, General Martin and Colonel Hiram Berdan. Postmaster General Wanamaker also spoke. He explained that the absence of President Harrison was due to Mrs. Harrison's illness. Colonel George Meade, son of the commander of the Army of the Potomac, was greeted with cheers, but did not speak. The Marine Band played the "Star Spangled Banner" and Rev. W. W. McKnight, D. D., president of Pennsylvania College, pronounced the benediction.

Bay State Prohibitionists.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 2.—The following nominations were made at the Prohibition State Convention today: For Governor—Wolcott Hamilton, of Amherst. For Lieutenant Governor—Edwin Kendall, of Cambridge. Secretary of State—Samuel B. Shapleigh, of Boston. Treasurer and Receiver General—General W. D. Farnham, Jr., of Somerville. Auditor—Alonzo H. Evans, of Ashburnham. Attorney General—Robert F. Raymond, of New Bedford.

All the candidates accepted. The platform denounced both the Democratic and Republican parties as unable to cope with the drink evil. Dr. H. A. Gibbs presented a resolution protesting against the unfair and dishonorable treatment which the prohibitionists of the state have received at the hands of the legislature. It was adopted by the convention. The list of delegates at large to the national convention includes one woman.

A Steamer's Peril.

[Special to the Press.]

ROCKLAND, June 2.—Steamer Emeline, Captain Webster, went ashore near Green ledge, at the entrance of Larry's Narrows, during the thick fog of yesterday. She was on her afternoon trip from this city to Vinalhaven. Her passengers were taken aboard of the steamer Forest Queen, which had been sailing alongside, also bound for Vinalhaven. The Emeline remained on the rocks until 3 o'clock this morning, when she was floated with little or no damage. Had it been a rough night she must have gone to pieces.

Funeral of Rev. John Cobb.

The funeral services of Rev. John Cobb of Gorham were conducted Tuesday afternoon in the School street Methodist church, where two years ago the deceased closed a successful and popular pastoralate.

The funeral was largely attended and was in charge of R. G. Harding, Esq. Rev. A. W. Pottle was invited to take charge of the services, which were as follows: Hymns read by Rev. N. J. Kewley and Rev. G. D. Lindsay; Scripture lesson by Rev. C. F. Allen; invocation by Rev. G. R. Palmer; addresses by Revs. D. B. Randall, Charles Munger, L. H. Beau, W. S. McIntire and G. R. Palmer. The closing prayer was by Rev. W. B. Bartlett.

The Masonic fraternity, of which the deceased was an honored member, served as an escort to the procession, were present in large numbers, and at the close of the church services their beautiful and appropriate ritual was conducted by the proper officers.

The music, which was admirably rendered, was under the direction of Mr. M. E. Little, Prof. George Quimby, organist.

The floral offerings were abundant and in excellent taste. Prominent among these was a floral emblem from the School street church, a floral tribute furnished by the ladies of the Relief Corps of Gorham and others. A large delegation of his brethren in the ministry were present and the bearers were selected from the members.

Sixth of June.

The arrangements have been completed for the celebration of the anniversary of the Portland Light Infantry, which occurs at the Preble House next Monday evening. Invitations have been issued to Gen. H. M. Sprague, Adjutant General, Col. L. H. Kendall and other officers of the militia in the city. Gen. C. P. Matlocks will act as master of ceremonies.

THIRTY TO SPARE.

Portland Piled Up Thirty-One Runs and Shut Out Manchester.

VISITORS GOT DESPERATE AND TRIED ALL POSITIONS.

Salems Lost at Lewiston Because of Smith's Errors—Brooktons and Lovells in Yesterday's List of Winners—Woonsocket-Portland Game Which Both Sides Protested To Be Played Over—The National League.

Yesterday Portland turned the tables on the Manchester and defeated them by the overwhelming score of 31 to 0 the worst so far this season. Klobedanz who pitched for the home team showed that he is capable of pitching with the best of them. His work yesterday showed good judgment, and in tight places, that is, with men on bases, he was as cool as could be desired, while his catching Wheeler off first in the eighth, with the whole Manchester team shouting, "Look out for the turn," was about as clever as one will often see.

The visitors yesterday afternoon seemed after Wheeler was knocked out of the box in the third, to see how many different positions each man could play during a single game. Farrell led with five. He played short stop, pitcher, right and center fields and second base and it must be said to his credit he did it well. For the rest, Mackey showed himself to be a star. He caught three different men during the afternoon and did it well as the men put the ball everywhere but over the plate, and kept him on the jump all the time. Some of his stops were of the gilt-edge order.

The home team took things very coolly, watching the leather-hunting Manchester out in the hot sun while they sent the leather over for them to hunt. Lachance led in the number of hits made, he making five, while Kirmes made four with the total of nine, his home run over left field being a daisy. Kirmes felled well and threw finely to first, showing what he can do when he is in condition. O'Brien's work in centre was the best of the season.

Portland batted Wheeler, who started to pitch for the visitors, out of the box in the third, hitting him for nine hits with Farrell, who pitched the rest of the third and the fourth. He was hit for 6 with 9 total. Fitzmaurice pitched the fifth and was hit for a double and a home run. Dowling pitched sixth, seventh and eighth and was hit for four singles and two doubles. Thornton finished the game, making the fifth pitcher for the game.

Webster, late of the Woonsocket, umpired a very good game, his decisions being very good both on balls and strikes and the bases. Attendance, 450. The score:

RICH MEN'S PALACES.

The Costly Domiciles of Noted American Millionaires.

W. K. Vanderbilt's Magnificent "Cottage" at Newport—Commodore Gerry's Spacious New York Residence Now in Course of Construction—Ames' Town House.

This seems to be the age of what might be called "residential competition" among the millionaires of America. Each appears to be imbued with the desire to own a home which shall outstrip in magnificence and architectural beauty all other private abodes. As a result several men of great wealth are now having constructed dwellings on which no expense will be spared.

A "cottage," so called only because it is located at Newport, and follows the cottage style of architecture, will shortly be completed for W. K. Vanderbilt. The main lines of the exterior, while evidencing great cost, are nevertheless so severely plain, that curiosity as to the interior appointments and arrangement has been excited, especially as Mrs. Vanderbilt, who has charge of the details, has not permitted her most intimate friends, or even members of her family to inspect the building which she will occupy shortly and which she expects will be a surprise to every one, as it is intended that it shall be the handsomest "cottage" in the United States.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended in beautifying the grounds, and nature herself has been overcome by the erection of an artificial promontory, which projects for a considerable distance into the sea. The main vestibule extends 57 feet in one direction and 30 feet in the other. Its walls and floor are of yellow marble. This apartment is 60 feet high, and has a balcony upon which the rooms of the second story open, running entirely around it. The ceiling is divided into panels by massive beams and is beautifully frescoed. The dining room is on the first floor and measures 48 by 30 feet. The drawing room is of the same size as the dining room, and is on the opposite side of the vestibule. The walls of this apartment are completely covered with crystal and gold. The value of the latter is said to be enough to build an ordinary municipal building. The library and Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt's apartments rival in magnificence Aladdin's cave, and the entire finish of the "cottage" is such as is calculated to excite the envy even of the multimillionaires who have summer homes at Newport.

THE GERRY MANSION.

While Mrs. Vanderbilt has been expending money and ingenuity on an out of town residence, Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry has been devising means for the erection of the handsomest city home in the United States. Work has already been commenced on the building, which will be at the corner of Fifth avenue and Sixty-first street, next door to the Metropolitan, better known as the Millionaires' Club. The house will be of marble. No wood at all will be used, as the beams will be of steel. The building will be about 100 feet on Fifth avenue and 144 feet on Sixty-first street. The Fifth avenue front of the building will be given up to sumptuously appointed drawing rooms, and the remainder of the first floor will be occupied by the dining room, picture gallery and Commodore Gerry's law library and "den."

Mrs. Gerry's apartments will take up the entire space over the drawing rooms. Each of the bedrooms will have a bath and maid's room adjoining. Besides the commodore's study the third floor will contain a specially constructed room for isolating any member of the family who may be stricken down with a contagious disease. The attic will be devoted to twelve servants' chambers, ranged about a large central workroom. The building will be elaborately decorated.

Frederick Lothrop Ames is one of the richest men in New England, and it is said that he aspires to be Boston's chief landlord. His ancestors came over in the Mayflower. His Boston residence is believed to be its owner's greatest pride, and it is noted as one of the finest and most costly dwellings in New England. It is adorned with rare furnishings from all parts of the world. Mr. Ames' vast fortune is the result partly of inheritance, but principally of judicious manufacturing, railroad, telegraph and real estate investments. He is a director in some of the largest corporations in the United States. His country seat at Easton is one of the finest rural homes near Boston. Mr. Ames is assessed for $6,000,000 of real estate in the "Hub" alone.

A BEAUTIFUL TROPHY.

Will Harvard or Yale Win the University Track Athletic Cup?

The Harvard-Yale cup, or as it is properly known, the "University Track Athletic Cup," is the outcome of an agreement entered into between the alumni and undergraduates of the two universities for a series of annual track and field athletic contests from 1891 to 1899.

The cup, which is of sterling silver, standing sixteen inches high, was made by Tiffany & Co., and is unquestionably the most beautiful college trophy ever competed for in this country. It is Grecian in form and thoroughly classical in its entire treatment. Around the body etched in relief work are pictured emblematic figures of the early athletes in their struggles for the laurel wreath, which the goddess of Victory holds aloft for the winner, while the old trumpeter or announcer of the ancient period stands in the midst of the field and with his trumpet announces the victor.

THE HARVARD-YALE CUP.

gle for the laurel wreath, which the goddess of Victory holds aloft for the winner, while the old trumpeter or announcer of the ancient period stands in the midst of the field and with his trumpet announces the victor. Forming a border round the neck of the cup is the inscription, "University Track Athletic Cup." On the body of the cup is the Greek word "Athlonika," signifying victory in the games, and just beneath the field scene is a palm branch bearing the seals of Harvard and Yale. On the reverse side of the cup are the nine laurel wreaths on which will be engraved, from year to year, the name of the university scoring the winning number of points in the games, while there is also a large wreath for the name of the one which shall eventually hold the cup by winning the majority of the nine annual contests.

CHURCH-GOING MADE EASY.

A Woman Invents an Adjustable Pew Head Rest—Approved by Clergymen.

Miss Anna T. Sinclair has invented a new rest. It is a simple contrivance, consisting of a curved piece of wood, one and one-half inches wide and four inches long, upholstered in velvet or cloth. This cup-shaped portion is fitted to springs and at the bottom of these is a clasp which fixes firmly on top of the pew-rest, adjustable at any angle, so that when the head is bowed in prayer it affords a comfortable support for the forehead which does not come in contact with the hard wood of the pew.

The inventor avers that this custom of resting the head on the pew-rests is the cause of so many people complaining of headaches after church. The position is very trying to any one subject to nervous headaches, and though many persons by the placing of a prayer or hymn book or handkerchiefs under the forehead, relieve in a measure the discomfort, these expedients are tiresome and unsatisfactory, especially so in the case of women, as they play havoc with their coiffures and bonnets. Miss Sinclair proposes to obviate all this by her "prayer rest."

Models of the invention have been shown to various prominent clergymen in New York city, among them Dr. John Hall, who says:

"The newly invented article for increasing the comfort of church pews has been shown me, and I can well understand it might promote the comfort of worshippers."

Dr. John R. Paxton cordially indorses the invention, and also Rev. Ensign McCleary, pastor of the Madison Avenue M. E. Church; Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, rector of St. Ann's Church, and Rev. Dr. C. H. Eaton.

"It is well to contribute to a greater reverence in worship and to a correspondingly greater convenience on the part of the worshippers," is what Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, on Fifty-seventh street, says of it. Miss Sinclair hopes to make her "rest," which is compact, portable and easily adaptable, as important an adjunct to the church-goer as the prayer or hymn book.

Search Lights Versus Torpedo Boats. It is stated that one of the most effective means of protecting a ship in these days of torpedoes, the grouping together of a number of stationary search lights, each illuminating its own section so that the ship is surrounded by an unbroken circle of light, is to be adopted in the new American warships. This has been suggested by a very pronounced defect in the usual search light practice. In order to afford sufficient time for a careful examination of the water's surface at points removed from the ship, the beam of light must be revolved very slowly, and hence during a great portion of the time any particular section of the water is left in darkness. As it takes only five minutes for a torpedo boat to run two miles, it will be seen that the conditions are all in favor of the attacking force. Before the revolution of the search light is completed there is plenty of time for the torpedo boat to run up and discharge her deadly weapons.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Ironclad Snake.

The Editor of The Chesterton, Ind., Tribune says that while gathering flowers in the woods the other day he stirred up a snake, which he attempted to kill with a stone. Contact of the stone with the snake's body gave back a metallic sound, and thereupon he hammered the reptile upon the head until it was dead. He then discovered that two-thirds of the snake's body was encased in a section of gas-pipe one inch in diameter. The theory is that the snake got into the pipe when young, and then grew so large that it couldn't get out.

To Lower a Record.

G. Waller, of the Acme Athletic Club, of California, has informed the Racing Board of the L. A. W. that on June 10 he will attempt to lower the 24-hour record. He will start at 6 p. m. on his ride on the Alameda Bicycle Club track.

The handle to his name, if he has one, is the thing to work when pumping a man.

HOME - MADE BREAD.

Many people do not like Baker's Bread and will be pleased to learn that there is a place in this city where they can procure Fresh Baked Bread, fully equal to the home-made article.

A few weeks ago a young lady in this city conceived the idea of starting out on a little business enterprise, baking in the kitchen at home the bread, using the best of materials and taking great care and pains to have the bread nice, and then offering the same for sale at our store. From a few loaves a day at first the sales have grown to quite large proportions and are continually increasing. It may be had at any of our three stores, fresh baked each day after 11 o'clock, price 10c per large loaf.

GOTTOLENE---The New Vegetable Substitute for Lard.

Competent cooks will be on hand at the Congress street store during the remainder of the week to show its use and superiority over lard in the making of pastry, cakes and doughnuts.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The Republican voters of Portland registered as entitled to vote in a Republican caucus, are hereby notified to meet in their respective ward rooms on Monday evening, June 6, 1892, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting seven delegates from each ward to attend the Republican state convention to be held in the City Hall, Portland, Tuesday, June 21, 1892, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for governor to be supported at the September election, September 12, 1892.

Also to nominate candidates for electors at large for President and Vice President of the United States to be supported at the November election, and to transact any other business that may properly come before the convention. The chairman and clerk of each ward caucus will make a record of the names of all persons chosen as delegates and certify and deliver the same to the Republican headquarters immediately after the adjournment of the caucus.

The delegates chosen will meet in convention at Republican headquarters, room 6, Brown Memorial Block, on Tuesday, June 7, 1892, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of choosing three delegates at large.

Per order Republican City Committee.
ERNEST TRUE, Secretary.
Portland, May 31, 1892.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

BEFORE JUDGE WEBB.
THURSDAY—Docket called preparatory to adjournment of the present term.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The following decisions with rescripts were sent down yesterday in cases pending before the law court for the western district.

The rescripts are by Judge Walton.

State vs. William Holt.
Rescript—A willful and corrupt attempt to prevent the attendance of a witness before any lawful tribunal, is an indictable offense at common law. The essence of the offense consists in a willful and corrupt attempt to interfere with and obstruct the administration of justice.

Intentionally and designedly to get a witness drunk for the express purpose of preventing his attendance before the grand jury, or in open court, is such an interference with the proceedings in the administration of justice as will constitute an indictable offense, and one for which the guilty party ought to be promptly and severely punished. It is important that it should be understood that the suppression of evidence by such, or by any similarly wicked and corrupt means, cannot be practiced with impunity. Exceptions overruled. Indictment adjudged sufficient.

Christiana R. Parker vs. Humphrey N. Lancaster et al.

Rescript—It is a settled rule of law that money voluntarily paid cannot be recovered back. Money obtained by fraud or duress, or under such circumstances of oppression, actual or threatened, as renders it unconscionable for the one receiving it to retain it, may be recovered back. But when one demands money under a claim of right, and uses no other means to obtain it than importunity and persistence, or a threat expressed or implied of resort to litigation to obtain it, it is not voluntarily paid, and the one of whom the money is demanded has a right to consider and deliberate, and to obtain the advice of counsel or friends before he pays it, and then voluntarily paid to settle the demand, it cannot be recovered back, though the demand is illegal.

The law favors the compromise of doubtful claims, and does not allow settlements arrived at by mutual consent to be set aside merely because a lawyer can tender no more valuable service to his client and none for which he should be better paid, than when, by his efforts, he succeeds in procuring the settlement of a controversy without litigation.

In this case the money was paid voluntarily. It was, in fact, a compromise settlement of all matters between the parties. Both parties employed counsel. The defendant tendered to disclose any ground on which either of the parties can rightfully disaffirm or rescind the settlement in whole or in part, and we are forced to the conclusion that the verdict, which was for the plaintiff, must be regarded as clearly and unmistakably wrong.

Motion sustained; new trial granted.

James M. Treat, in equity, vs. Abel Parsons et al.

Rescript—If a party having constructed a weir for no other purpose than to take such fish as are named in a grant, and who is the first taker of them, and he is the first taker of them, such other fish become his property the same as if taken by other means.

Fish, before they are taken, are the property of no one. When taken, like all animals, fero naturae, they belong to the taker.

Bill dismissed with costs.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate in this county have been recorded at the registry of deeds:

Bridgton—Eliza A. Gage to F. A. Mitchell.
Nathaniel Potter to Frederick Fox, $138.
Deering—George F. Whiting to Annie M. Whiting.
Troy—Bryant to Albert W. Childs.
Alton Blackston to F. A. Gage.
Windham—John Cartland to Thomas M. Douglas.
O. P. Chaffin to Nancy Edwards, $375.
Westbrook—Nelson Valentine to Dwinall Prude.
Sebago—George E. Fitch et al. to John F. Thompson.
Portland—Louis W. Bradstreet to Alfred E. Freeman.
Deering—Harriet M. Wheeler et al. to John Maroney.
Charles W. Hodgdon to George B. Hodgdon.
Baldwin—William Thorn to Merritt Thorn.
$500.
Brunswick—Isabel Douglass to Lindley M. Varney.
Freeport—Anna J. Goddard et al. to George H. Jordan, $200.

Fire Department Rules.

A new and revised edition of the rules and regulations of the fire department has been prepared and will be issued to the men at their company meetings Monday night. Two paragraphs are changed, those relating to the duties of captains in the departments. The new rules prescribe that the captains shall have rank according to their seniority in the service. The board of engineers has therefore promulgated the following official list and the commanders rank as follows:

Senior Captain—A. F. Griffin, Engine 4.
Second Captain—John E. Cady, Ladder 3.
Third Captain—M. N. Eldredge, Engine 3.
Fourth Captain—J. B. Bragg, Ladder 1.
Fifth Captain—J. B. Bragg, Ladder 2.
Sixth Captain—John B. Brown, Engine 5.
Seventh Captain—Wm. E. Hanson, Engine 1.
Eighth Captain—Edward Wallace, Engine 2.

Captain Kelsey of Hose 6 and Captain Millett of Pease's Island Company are not ranked because their stations are so situated that they are rarely brought into service.

CLEVELAND'S
One rounded teaspoonful of Cleveland's Baking Powder does more and better work than a heaping teaspoonful of any other.
A large saving on a year's bakings.

DEERING POLITICS.

The Anti-Somers Men Get New Caucuses for Saturday Evening—Somers Men Will Not Go Into Them—Registration Proceeding Slowly.

The silk-stocking Democrats of Deering do not intend that Mr. Robert F. Somers shall keep those eight delegates which his friends won for him in the tumultuous caucus described in the Press of Wednesday. The city committee met last evening at Adams Hall. About 15 members were present, among them being Chairman H. A. Jackson, Alexander McKone, George B. Leavitt, Mark Jordan, A. H. Huston, Augustus Tate, R. G. Hooper, Michael Stevens, George M. Cram, Howard Winslow and L. W. Dyer.

They discussed the caucus of Tuesday long and earnestly. The majority of the committee were quite evidently anti-Somers men, and determined that the Tuesday caucus should not count. They made the point that the caucus was illegal, since it was a union caucus, whereas, Deering being now a city, ward caucuses are proper. They also brought up the point that the call was issued two days before the call for the county convention, although the caucus itself was not held until after the call for the convention was out. Alexander McKone, as leader of the Somers men, contended that other cities held union caucuses, and that the time of the issue of the call was immaterial. But he was outvoted, and it was voted to hold ward caucuses Saturday evening, for the choice of a city committeeman, a delegate to the state convention and a delegate to the county convention in each ward.

The delegates thus chosen will meet Monday to choose a delegate at large for each convention. The Somers men protested against this; and it was their intention last evening not to go into the ward caucuses, but to present their delegation at the county convention and demand admission for it as the legal Deering delegation.

The ward delegates who will be chosen Saturday seem likely to be for Tolman, as he seems to have made more headway than Swett, so far. It may be that there will be a Tolman-Swett fight, in which case the defeated side could have refuge in school district caucuses.

The Registration.

The registration of voters proceeds with alarming slowness. Only 59 registered Tuesday, 66 Wednesday, and 56 yesterday. As there are about 1500 to register, it is seen that there must be some stirring about. Republicans should bestir themselves and arouse their neighbors. The Democratic row may produce lots of Democratic votes next fall, which must be met.

CITY OF WESTBROOK.

Wm. Gilman of Cumberland Mills has just returned from a four days' fishing trip to Sebago. He succeeded in landing eight fine salmon trout, averaging four pounds, the largest one weighing seven pounds. His son, ten years of age, caught three of the eight.

A large stone watering trough is being placed in the square.

Boston &amp; Maine.

The following table, showing the savings in interest to the Boston and Maine, which will be effected from 1892 to 1899 inclusive, by refunding maturing bonds at 4 per cent, is interesting:

Year.	Boston & Maine.
1893	94,000
1894	85,422
1895	26,816
1896	21,411
1897	4,000
1898	16,025
1899	12,400
Total	$290,069

Deduct increased dividends on leased lines stock, beginning 1897..... 112,267

Total..... $177,802

The above table includes the maturing obligations of leased and affiliated lines in all cases where decreased interest inures to the benefit of the lessee.

The figures embrace $10,422 in 1894, $11,816 in 1895, $6,411 in 1896 and $11,497 in 1898—total, $40,146—savings in fixed charges on the Maine Central, or 50.64 per cent. of the total reduction in Maine Central charges, this being the percentage of stock interest in that company owned by the Boston and Maine.

It will be seen that the reduction in interest up to April 1, 1894, would suffice to pay 1.21 per cent. additional on the total issue of Boston and Maine stock, while the reduction for the whole period would be equivalent to 1.68 per cent. on Boston and Maine stock, or allowing for the increased dividends on stocks of leased lines to begin in 1897 would equal 1.02 per cent. on Maine stock.

The Boston and Maine will earn for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, next, slightly over 10 per cent. on its total stock, including the new issue, even if the earnings for the last six months of the fiscal year showing no increase over those of last year.

Pythian Sisterhood.

Damon Assembly, No. 1, P. S., will receive a large delegation of visiting Sisters from all parts of the state Saturday, June 3th. The meeting will be called at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The work of the order will be exemplified, after which a banquet will be served, followed in the evening by the regular meeting, at which will occur the nomination of officers.

Bishop Healy's Anniversary.

The 17th anniversary of the consecration of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Healy as Bishop of Portland was appropriately observed yesterday. Pontifical high mass was celebrated in the morning at 9 o'clock. In the afternoon the children of the Academy and Catholic schools observed the event with pleasing exercises.

A VOTING SCHOOL.

The Australian System As Explained Last Evening—The Central Labor Union's Successful Meeting—Remarks by Messrs. Ingraham, Chadbourne, Looney and Fessenden.

The exemplification of the practical working of the Australian ballot system last evening at City Hall, under the auspices of the Central Labor Union, was a very successful and interesting affair, although the audience was much smaller than the importance of the subject and the excellence of the speaking deserved.

The northeastern corner of the hall on the main floor was fitted up ready for election purposes; the duties of warden, ward clerk and election and ballot clerks being performed by members of the Young Men's Republican and Young Men's Democratic clubs and other gentlemen in the audience.

On the stage were Mr. Wm. J. Healy, president of the Central Labor Union, Mayor Ingraham, Hon. B. F. Chadbourne of Biddeford, Hon. Nicholas Fessenden, secretary of state, and others. Mayor Ingraham was introduced by Mr. Healy as presiding officer of the evening. He spoke briefly of the purposes of the meeting, and the importance to every man of a thorough understanding of the method of exercising the invaluable right of suffrage.

Mr. Chadbourne was next introduced by Mayor Ingraham and made a very interesting speech, in which he explained the rights of the voter and the simplicity of the new system. Any man who can read and write can understand the Australian system of voting. Mr. Chadbourne complimented very highly the fair, impartial, and able manner in which the Secretary of State was carrying out the provisions of the law.

Mr. Looney was the next speaker. He explained that the Australian system of voting was a new system, and that when in promoting the new law the objection was made that it was difficult and complicated, the answer was that a system that could be used successfully in Italy, in Switzerland and other countries of the old world must certainly be within the intelligence of the voter of Maine. Mr. Looney claimed for the new law the eradication of bribery in a large measure and the absolute overthrow of every kind of intimidation.

The principal and last speaker of the evening was the Secretary of State, Mr. Fessenden, said that when invited to be present this evening his first thought was that the demand on his time was such that he could in no way accept, but on second thought it seemed to him that he could in no way better perform the duties of his office. The correspondence that he had received in relation to this law suggested to his mind the fear that not only the bribable voter might be kept away from the polls, but that the honest voter might be afraid of becoming involved in the complications of the law and stay at home, as a matter of fact, it is as easy for the voter as "rolling off a log." "I say this," said Mr. Fessenden, "although I opposed the law before its adoption and if it were not the law I would still oppose it; but it is the law and it is my duty, and the duty of every good citizen, to obey it and to do all in our power to promote its successful working. A fair reading of the law would show no more defects than can be found in any other law of the same number of sections on our statute books."

Mr. Fessenden then went into an elaborate explanation of the duties of the municipal officers, wardens, clerks, and election officers substantially as has already been explained at length in the columns of the Press. The practical work of voting, as illustrated under Mr. Fessenden's direction, showed that there was no difficulty, so far as depositing the ballot in the box was concerned. Mr. Fessenden gave an opportunity for questions from the audience and answered all in a very courteous and able manner. He is a gentleman whom the citizens of Portland will be glad to meet again, and in whatever capacity he may see fit to come. The speakers all are to be congratulated on having an audience who listened and appreciated every word.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Weather Today is likely to be fair.

PORTLAND, June 3, 1892.

BLOUSES and Shirt Waists were never in such popularity as now. They're unconventional and comfortable, they're not expensive and they're becoming to everybody, moreover they are practical, common sense garments for warm weather wearing—so there's no reason why they shouldn't be universally liked.

These are the days that bring the mercury and the demand for Neglige Shirts close up to the top limit. It brings Straw Hats and the need of thinner Underclothing into activity, and on the whole, the warm weather is a good thing for stores. You can see more Shirts for summer here than in any two other stocks in town, and whatever you want, whatever your idea, we can supply it, and for little money.

You'll need to take advantage of every help to comfort when the torrid wave begins. Gauzy Underwear is what you'll think of first, the place to get it next, and—that's here of course.

CLIFF COTTAGE.

Mr. C. B. Saunders, so long and favorably known as the steward of the Cumberland Club, has taken the fine estate known as Cliff Cottage, on the Shore Road, 2 1/2 miles from this city. ANNUAL MEETINGS.
Annual Meeting.
The stockholders of the Portland, Saco and Portland Harbor Company are hereby notified that their annual meeting for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may legally be presented, will be held on the first Monday, the sixth day of June 1892, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon in the company's hall in Kittery.
F. R. BARRETT, Clerk of the Company.

MAINE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.
The fortieth annual meeting will be held in Common Council chamber, City Building, Portland on June 8-9-10th, 1892.
CHAS. D. SMITH, Sec'y

ANY Consumptive
That has been under medical treatment three months without relief, we will send one case of Murdock's Liquid Food, Boston, free of charge.

IF Paralytic
under treatment for three months has had no relief, we will give one case of Murdock's Liquid Food free of cost.

Our reasons for the above offer are that we have never known a case of paralysis that we have not cured or very much helped, or a consumptive that has not been either cured or a strong testimony that life has been very much prolonged by its use.

In all cases of Disease beneficial results are sure to be obtained by the use of Murdock's Liquid Food. This statement is attested by the crucial test of over THREE THOUSAND operations in a prominent hospital in this country, and by its use the unprecedented record was reported of a lossy death of only five patients in a thousand, and many of these difficult cases of surgery. We shall be pleased to give any inquirer the further facts, but the above is convincing proof that Murdock's Liquid Food is not an artificial stimulant to the system, but though it can be given in the most extreme cases of exhaustion with perfect safety, its influence is permanent and without a reactionary influence deleterious to the system.

We would remind the public that no substitute (and there are many so-called Foods and Food Extracts in the market) has second in any way approaching the results of the Murdock's Liquid Food in the past 12 years.

CONCERNING BOOKS.

BY E. CAVAZZA.

Flower o' the Vine. By William Sharp with Introduction by Thomas A. Janvier. The prose and poetry of Mr. Sharp, brilliant, versatile and sympathetic, are rapidly making for him an excellent fame among contemporary British authors. His work has much variety; and shows a talent happy in its own exercise. This volume is arranged with special tact, as an expression of the two influences, far apart, of the north and the south, which have combined to form his poetic character. In the Romantic Ballads and Poems of Phantasy, the author appears like one of the charming young Scotchmen in their literary promotion, that are met in the novels of Mr. William Black. The strenuous second-sight, the vague and solemn imagery, the haunting lilt of the old Border ballads are in these verses. This national and native bardic gift is, at the same time, evidently under conscious literary discipline, in the course of study under the masters—Rossetti, Keats, Kingsley, may be named—who have harmonized with full chords these archaic melodies. By means of this concern with the literary side of his work, the story and picturesque talent of Mr. Sharp has made its way steadily to the discovery of its own capabilities. In the Sospiri di Roma, his beautiful poetic gift is warmed into full life and self-expression. These exquisite Roman reminiscences are alike original, sensitive and artistic. Mr. Sharp has seen Rome with his own eyes; and without technical prejudices or formulas he has reported his impressions of it. In these semi-lyrics, mostly rhymeless, the ear of the poet presses itself not less precise and subtly appreciative than his eye. This is poetry, pure, spontaneous and vital. Mr. Janvier's preface is graceful and genial. (New York: Charles L. Webster & Co.; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon. Price, $1.50.)

The Art of Entertaining. By M. E. W. Sherwood. 'Twas not wholly a fantastic idea, perhaps, when Lord Byron said that he disliked to see a woman eat. Not that a beautiful hand, with jeweled rings and the curves of a charming mouth are without grace when a fork is in evidence but so much feminine gastronomic science as Mrs. Sherwood displays in this book appears like an enthusiastic pendency of the menu, assumed for the occasion. However she makes a very thorough study of the material resources of the American who would entertain company, and adorns her treatise with many readable anecdotes and illustrations. Then she proceeds to make some good suggestions for the social diversions more or less formal which pass the hours agreeably; with descriptions of entertainments in different European countries. Especially appreciative is her sketch of the court of the beautiful and good Queen Margherita of Italy. Mrs. Sherwood has seen a great deal of the social world and is a very entertaining raconteuse, without pretentiousness. She recalls what she has observed, in order to help Americans to choose the best methods of entertaining their guests. It is not surprising that, now and then, a little misapprehension of French or Italian slips into her work. For instance, in her story of the manifold exterior arrangements of the famous olive of the French gourmet, she may be reminded that a beccafico is but a small Italian bird, yet his dimensions allowed him to include, not to be included in, that olive! (New York: Dodd, Mead & Co.; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon.)

James Russell Lowell. By George William Curtis. By the terms of the letter of gift of the Brooklyn Institute, it was provided by the founder, Mr. Augustus Graham, that every year upon the 22nd of February, a lecture should be delivered there of which the subject should be the character of George Washington, or of some other benefactor of America. The orator of the anniversary of 1892, was to have been Professor James Russell Lowell, but since death prevented him from being the speaker of the occasion, it was determined that he should be the theme of a discourse by Mr. G. W. Curtis. Naturally, this is a polished and cordial delineation of Professor Lowell, as man, poet, scholar and citizen and is expressed with the charm of Mr. Curtis's style. It is illustrated by portraits of Lowell at different periods of his life; and is bound in the delicate good taste of the Black and White series. (New York: Harper & Brothers; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon.)

Moonlight. By Dan Beard. Mr. Beard, widely and well known as an artist with the pencil, is also graphic and fanciful when he handles the pen of the romancer. The hero of his socialistic story finds in a Pennsylvania tavern, where he is for the purpose of viewing the coal-mines in which he is a stockholder, a black-letter book treating of Moonlight. This, according to the monkish scribe, is a lunar spell that makes dreams permanent after waking; and by its magic, the mine-owner finds the visual opacity of his mind suddenly corrected so that he sees people and things as they are. At the meeting of the directors of the mine, the stockholders appear to him foxes, wolves, rattlesnakes. The miners, black with coal, clanking their dinner-pails, seem to him like the slaves before Lincoln's Proclamation severed all the chains at a stroke. With the aid of the overseers, he tries to institute a mining village on a basis of justice and humanity. Mr. Beard's development of the story, supported by statistics, should do much toward obtaining fair treatment for the miners. This, he believes, is the third occasion for America to assert her belief that men are born free and equal, with a right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. He shows with force the evil of monopolies. A fantastic little sketch, six feet of Romance, is also included in the volume, which is illustrated by the author. The book is admirably bound and printed. (New York: Charles L. Webster and Co. Price, $1.00.)

Social and Literary Papers. By Charles Chauncy Shackford. These essays by the late Professor Shackford, are scholarly and thoughtful, comprising a variety of significant topics. In the Prometheus of Aeschylus, "a soul severely grand like that of Milton, austere just like that of Dante," he finds a masterly treatment of the problems with which modern social science is concerned; the progress of humanity, and its martyrs at the stake of conservatism; the law of heredity; the distribution of wealth; the sanitary laws; the question of labor. These he sums up in a fine essay. The satirist Lucian; the Greek idea of Nemesis; comments on Browning; essays on the Republic of Plato, and the Politics of Aristotle; on various social phases; and finally, on History as Development are titles which indicate the contents of this volume, published by care of Mr. A. W. Stevens of the University Press. (Boston: Roberts Brothers; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon. Price $1.25.)

The Evolution of Christianity. By Lyman Abbott. In this series of chapters upon religious evolution, Dr. Abbott shows his customary liberal conservatism and solid mentality. After tracing the development of theological and ethical philosophy, he comes to conclusions in which he defines Christianity, Inspiration, Revelation and other terms important to theology; and lastly, Religion, as Divine life transforming the individual, the church, society into the kingdom of God. To readers interested in doctrinal and religious speculation as represented by leading men in the various denominations, Dr. Abbott's volume will be of interest and value. (Boston: Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon. Price $1.25.)

The Jew at Home. By Joseph Pennell. Mr. Pennell, an observant and clever tourist, well-armed with notebook and pencil, who has recorded for the pleasure of readers many unconventional and picturesque tours of his—sometimes falls into a tone of querulous railing, which is perhaps the result of the fatigues and inconveniences of travel. And therefore it may be that some discount ought to be made upon his portrait of the average Jew in southeastern Europe certainly a very unflattering likeness. He studied the sons of Israel especially in the town of Brody in Austria-Hungary where nearly all the population is Jewish; and from his notes he has been able to make a vivacious volume. These chapters originally appeared in the Illustrated London News, and called out a contradictory article from a native of Brody. Without entering into the discussion, Mr. Pennell's sensible advice may be quoted to the effect that if the Russian Jews are imported into America; he should be treated precisely as other men are, Austrians, Poles, Germans, of whatever religion, so that they shall assimilate with American nationality and civilization. The book is illustrated by some of Mr. Pennell's characteristic drawings. (New York: D. Appleton & Co.; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon.)

Stories and Interludes. By Barry Pain. The prose of Mr. Pain is so imaginative and idealistic that there is no effect of abrupt transition between his stories and the brief poems which are placed between them. While with the works of some realistic authors such alternations of prose and verse remind one of the Sicilian fashion of placing a laurel leaf between sausages! The work of this writer has distinction, of temperament and of style, he has a vivid and capricious fantasy, and very flexible and swift changes of tone that follow the feeling of the moment. In stories like Supreme Moments and Exchange the imagination is balanced between the familiar and the remote in a very original fashion. Rural Simplicity and Concealed Art are quite modern and possible; they are companion sketches, the latter especially clever. The series of White Nights with its indefinite place and time, its three princesses and its sad jester, is so entirely remote that it belongs to the realm of fairy tale. Oddly enough, Mr. Pain's verse is less tenderly ideal, more cynical and sharply touched than his prose. But all that he writes in this volume is individual and attractive. One last word shall be said for the piquant diablerie of the binding of the book, with its flame-red cloth, and black bats flitting against a moon that is all a swirl of golden flames. (New York: Harper & Brothers; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon.)

Amethyst. The Story of a Beauty. By Christabel R. Coleridge. This is an authorized American reprint of a very readable novel by an English author. The heroine, Amethyst, who has been brought up by an aunt, returns after loss of Aunt Annabel's money, to live with her mother and younger sisters. The most striking trait of the story is the sketch of this mother, amiable, loving excitement and admiration, always skating upon "white ice;" and her three little daughters sadly precocious in all the ways of the frisky world. Amethyst also is her mother's own daughter, but with a difference; and her story develops less by means of events than by light and logical touches of characterization. It is written unaffectedly, with a natural gift for pleasant story telling. Curiously enough, the pretty binding with its jeweled design shows red, blue, yellow—any color but amethystine tints of violet, dark or pale! (New York: D. Appleton & Co.; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon.)

Pratt Portraits. By Anna Fuller. The design of these photographic types is clever. Aunt Betsy and Ben's wife and Anson Pratt's romantic Emmeline, and mischievous Hattie, and the martyr Mary Ann, and Uncle Bobbly the poet, and the others, are all Pratts. They are oddly different and alike, they act and react upon each other after the manner of kinsfolk. They are not the village or country people, such as Miss Jewett and Miss Wilkins draw so perfectly—instead these Pratts are suburban dwellers, and although plain people, not wholly unsophisticated. Without the high degree and quality of imagination and finish which belong to the work of the two artists just mentioned, Miss Fuller's stories are truthful and spirited in their pictures of everyday life and are worth reading for their pleasant and for their strong touches of character. (New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon.)

An Edelweiss of the Sierras, Golden Rod and Other Tales. By Mrs. Burton Harrison. Among the agreeable books for summer reading will not be overlooked this volume of stories by Mrs. Burton Harrison. The little romance which gives its name to the collection is tender and pathetic, a story of faithful love and early death. Golden Rod, the longest of the stories, was published some years ago and appreciatively reviewed in these columns. The others are brief, varied in subject; and all are written with the author's accustomed refinement and grace. (New York: Harper & Brothers; Portland: Loring, Short & Harmon.)

BRIEF JOTTINGS.

Fine growing weather yesterday. The island steamboats were well patronized yesterday.

The shed in the rear of Ladd's 2's house is being fitted for a store room.

A party of Portland wheelmen will visit Rockland in a few days by invitation.

The Inspector of Buildings, it is reported, will have the Ottawa House indicted if the fire escapes are not put on at once.

A missionary meeting for ladies of the Congregational churches of this city will be held at High street vestry this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Maine Board of the World's Fair managers at Bangor today at the Bangor House.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their weekly meeting today at 36 Oak street at 3 o'clock. All interested in the work are cordially invited to be present.

The city engineer, Mr. Jordan and, assistants, is establishing the lines on Morning street, and other engineers are laying out building lots. The land at the north and east of Munjoy street is being laid out in building lots. A brick sidewalk will be laid on Howard street.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Swasey and daughter have left for the West, where they will travel through June.

Hon. Joseph P. Bass of Bangor was in town yesterday. Mr. Bass is one of the World's Fair commissioners from this state.

W. J. Spicer, general manager of the Chicago & Grand Trunk railroad, will arrive next week and open his elegant cottage at Cushing's Island.

Miss McDowell, of this city, Misses Ross and Parsons, will sail June 5th for Copenhagen from Hamburg, and thence proceed on a trip to Sweden and Norway to see the midnight sun.

Mr. Stephen Marsh, for so many years on the city board of assessors, announces that he has opened an office at No. 19 Exchange street, where he will take business relating to title deeds and appraisal of estates, work for which his long experience has qualified him admirably.

Conductor S. Stowe, of the Grand Trunk, was taken ill at Auburn Wednesday night. Yesterday morning he felt somewhat better and was about to board the horse car at the Grand Trunk station when he was overcome and carried to his room, where he rested comfortably. Mr. Stowe lives at South Paris.

The Weather.

Yesterday was hot. The early morning was bright and very warm and by noon the thermometer on the front of the Falmouth hotel, upon which the sun never shines from sunset until two or three o'clock in the afternoon, indicated 84°. Between 12 and 2 p. m. the Weather Bureau said 92°, but the thermometer at Senter's, one door below, on which the sun had shone during the day, indicated 90°. The open horse cars were well patronized and so were fans and soda fountains. The straw hat brigade was out in force.

Mass Meeting at City Hall.

At the grand mass meeting to be held at City Hall, this evening, Mr. Walter C. Emerson will preside, and a band concert by the American Cadet band from 7.30 to 8 o'clock will precede the speaking. Frank K. Foster, editor of the Labor Leader, F. W. White vice president of the S. B. of A. F. of D., and T. J. Lyons of the Stone Cutters' Union will be the speakers.

Inquest on Roger Hilton.

The coroner's inquest on the death of Roger Hilton, by the bursting of a steam chest in the mill of the Westbrook Manufacturing Company, at Saccarappa, was finished yesterday. The jury laid no blame on anybody, simply finding that the cause of the explosion was to them unknown. Coroner Gould conducted the inquest.

Stock on Hand.

There was on hand June 1st, 38,031 barrels of flour, 32,500 bushels of oats, and 57,000 bushels corn.

BOSTON TOW BOAT COMPANY.

Daniel Gallagher and Others Recover Damages.

The case of Daniel Gallagher and others vs. the Boston Tow Boat Company was tried in the United States District Court last March. This was a suit for damages for a collision on Nantucket Shoals in November, 1890. At the time of the hearing Judge Webb held the Tow Boat Company in fault and referred the question of damages to Capt. Wm. Leavitt as assessor. His report was filed and confirmed by the court yesterday forenoon. He awards to the libellants the sum of $1,112.75. The Tow Boat company gave notice of their intention to appeal the case to the circuit court of appeals. Benjamin Thompson, Esq., was attorney for the libellants and Clarence Hale, Esq., for the respondents.

The Emeralds and the Owl Club.

The Emeralds were royally entertained by the Owl Club of Boston Monday and Tuesday. An electric car conveyed them to the "Owl Roost," where a collation was served. Then they were taken about the city in elegant barouches. In the evening at the banquet President Samuel Horton of the Owls, and William Massey of the Emeralds were at the head of the table. Mr. Ed Roach was toastmaster. Addresses were made by Messrs. Sprague, Bamber and Craibe of the Owls, and William Massey, James O'Neil and John Cummings of the Emeralds. There were songs by Robert and James Foster, D. P. McGlinchy, J. W. McAndrews, J. E. Hassett and J. Collins, dances by John Powers and P. Clarity, and music by the Emerald Quartette and the Excelsior Banjo Trio, Newton, O'Neil and Toomey.

A Juvenile Gang of Burglars.

Allday or twojago some one threw a stone at a Grand Trunk passenger train, near Fish Point, breaking a square of glass. Joseph H. Cavanagh said he would tell who did it if the officer would be sure not to let anybody know that he had told. On his information two boys were arrested. They said Cavanagh himself threw the stone. Hence he was arrested and confessed. He was fined, yesterday, but will have to serve it out in jail.

Then Officer Fields of the Grand Trunk brought in a boy named Ed. Hinds, who he claimed was one of a young gang who has been breaking into cars and stealing fruit, tobacco, etc. It appears Cavanagh was one of the same gang.

Left for Minneapolis.

The delegates to the Minneapolis convention left on the 8.45 special Wagner train via the Maine Central and the White Mountains, yesterday. A number of prominent gentlemen were present to see them off. Their views were very diverse as to who would be the nominee of the convention. Some said Harrison, some Blaine, and others thought some one would be nominated not yet named, but of course it was all guess work. The party will visit Niagara Falls on the way. The list of the party has been published in the Press.

Cram-Sproul.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday morning at Westbrook, when Mr. Dan Cram, son of Sheriff Cram, and Miss Caroline Sproul, daughter of Mr. James Sproul, were married by Rev. Mr. Cousens. The house was very prettily decorated with flowers and there were many useful and valuable gifts. There was quite a party of the friends of the couple present and after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Cram took the train east on their tour.

Spiritualism vs. Christianity.

Considerable criticism was called out by the statement made by Rev. E. P. Woodward in his lecture on "Bible Spiritualism," that the claims and doctrines of modern Spiritualism are unbiblical. To settle the matter he will give another lecture next Saturday evening, at the Second Advent church, entitled "Modern Spiritualism; its claims demonstrated from its own literature, to be wholly unbiblical and anti-Christian." Spiritualists especially invited.

Maine Hotel Proprietors.

The eighth annual meeting of the Maine Hotel Proprietors' Association will be held at Cushing's Island, in the parlors of the Ottawa House, at 10.30 a. m. today. The boat leaves Portland Pier at 9.30 a. m. Shore dinner will be served at 1 o'clock p. m. There will be a sail down the bay at 3 o'clock, returning to the city in season for all trains going east and west.

Carpenters' Union.

The Carpenters' Union has appointed A. F. Mann as delegate to attend the convention of their National Union which meets in St. Louis in August. A committee has been appointed to made all arrangements for their picnic on the 15th of June. They intend to make the carpenters' picnic second to none. The members are taking great interest in the union.

Change of Time, Harpswell Steamboat Co. Steamer Merrycooneg, of the Harpswell line, will commence Sunday, June 5, to run two trips daily to Harpswell, leaving Portland at 10.00 a. m. and 2.00 p. m. Week days the steamer will leave Portland at 9.00 a. m. and 4.00 p. m.

Competent cooks will be at Geo. C. Shaw & Co.'s Congress street store the remainder of the week, to show the use and superiority of Cottolene over lard in the making of pastry, cake and doughnuts. This preparation is meeting with great favor and those who have not yet tried it should visit the store at once.

Mr. Robert W. Denver, An Exemplary Fireman of Jackson Engine Co., Long Island City, N. Y., says that at Christmas, 1890, he could only take a small dinner, as he was in a fearful condition from DYSPEPSIA. The next summer he went to Europe for his health, but came home unimproved. In the fall he decided upon a thorough trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla And by Christmas had a hearty appetite, healthy digestion, and was perfectly well. His cure was due wholly to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

HOOD'S PILLS cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, and sick headache. Try them.
